

SEEDS Annual Workshop

4 November 2021
Call for Papers

The interuniversity research centre SEEDS is pleased to invite you to submit a research paper at the Annual Workshop, that will take place on 4 November 2021 at the Faculty of Economics, University of Rome “Tor Vergata”.

The workshop will take place in person, with the possibility of online participation.

The Annual Workshop is an important milestone in the development of SEEDS, which was created in 2012. Participants are invited to present and share their research papers. Inter and multi-disciplinary papers, focusing on the several dimensions of sustainable development and the multi-faceted aspects of economic analysis of sustainability transition issues are especially welcome.

A list of relevant topics includes (but is not restricted to):

- Macroeconomics of sustainability and human development
- Climate change, energy and resources economics and policy
- Circular Economy models
- Sustainable and Circular Business models
- Environmental public policies and their evaluation
- Sustainable/Green Finance
- Environmental/Green technological change
- Sustainable production and consumption
- Environmental law & economic policy
- Behavioral economics and stated/preference techniques
- Trade and the environment
- Sector/firms studies
